HAPPENINGS IN STATE

LATEST AUTHENTIC FACTS CONCERNING HAPPENINGS IN STATE OF CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, August 16.—The removal of German competition and the demands of the war has created a need for trained chemists, with the result that unusual inducements are now being offered by industrial concerns for these experts, according to Prof. Joel H. Hildebrand of the University of California. Hildebrand, himself a chemist, has turned over his services to the government. Hildebrand says that the war drains on the ranks of the chemists has depleted even the teaching forces and warns that this is a serious phase of the situation as competent instructors are necessary to turn out the new talent necessary to fill demands.

MODESTO, Cal., August 16.—The casein factory of the Milk Products Corporation will discontinue operations here this week and the company will move the equipment to the Gustine factory where it will enlarge the plant and concentrate future operations.

ALAMEDA, Cal., August 16.—A children's room to which the older folks will be merely honored guests now and then and in which children, in charge of a special librarian will revel alone among children's books and children's stories, was opened this week as an adjunct to the Alameda library. Alameda is one of the first cities of its size to open such an institution. The children's room will be open every afternoon. A feature is to be a series of illustrated lectures on children's subjects to be given on Saturday afternoons.

RED CROSS FRENCH CLASS

So interested were the members of the French class yesterday afternoon that 5:15 o'clock found them still eager over their study, although the class had begun at 3:30 sharp. "Dear me," said one lady, "I could easily stay another couple of hours."

New words and phrases mastered; modern warfare and Red Cross terms discussed; the subtleties of French pronunciation practiced—Mrs. Woods was kept busy at the blackboard, while pencils and note-books were actively requisitioned by eager pupils. Mrs. C. M. Turck of Tropic, well-known clubwoman and European traveler, is the latest recruit to the coterie of women all intent upon acquiring a modern knowledge of the French language.

These afternoon lessons cost but $2.50 for a course of ten meetings, making the price of each lesson 25 cents. All proceeds will be divided between the Red Cross and British Ambulance. Sunset Glendale 394.

THESE REAL BUSY PEOPLE

Several weeks ago the Evening News sent out two or three hundred statements to the real busy people who have not time to call at the office and pay subscriptions. The response to these statements has been very encouraging, and it would seem that there are not more than a half dozen who feel like putting us to the expense of paying out money for additional postage and taking the time to mail out the second and the third letters. Remember, this is a time for conservation of energies and pennies.

FIVE WELCOME LETTERS

Mr. and Mrs. C. Fromm of 249 East Third street were much pleased to receive a package of letters, five in all, which came at one time from their son, Chas. Fromm, who is on the Brooklyn, the flag ship of the Asiatic squadron, stationed off the coast of Japan. The letters were written at different times, but no opportunity presented itself to mail them. Charles writes that he is well and was much pleased to meet recently two Glendale boys, Rowland Walters and Beryl Platt, who are on the Cincinnati.

KNITTING CLUB

Miss Christina Ferriss, 1446 Hawthorne street, entertained the knitting club of which she is a member very delightfully on Wednesday afternoon at her home. The guests were Misses Harriett Barnes, Mary Logan, Dottie Gregg, Billie Gregg, Helen Beach and Martha Ray. The girls enjoyed games and dancing and light refreshments were served by the young hostess.

EAST BY MOTOR

PALMERS RETURN FROM AUTO-MOBILE TRIP TO ILLINOIS AND MISSOURI

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Palmer and daughter Ruth, of 116 West Colorado boulevard, have just returned from an extended motor trip. They were as far east as Illinois, but spent most of the time visiting in Poplar Bluff and St. Louis, Mo. The trip east was made over the old Santa Fe trail. This leads over the foot-hill boulevard and state highway to San Bernardino, thence through the Cajon Pass to Victorville, this being the western boundary of the Mojave desert. From there the trip was made to Needles, where the Colorado river was crossed and the travelers found themselves in Arizona, where an officer met them to inquire if they had any booze, Arizona being a dry state. When he saw Mrs. Palmer's white ribbon he said: "They don't look like booze fighters." Kingman, the eastern boundary of the desert, Williams, Grand Canyon and Flagstaff came next, and between Holbrook and St. Johns is the wonderful petrified forest of Arizona. Que-mada, Socorro, Albuquerque, Santa Fe and Los Vegas are the principal cities of New Mexico. There are many places of interest in this region. Isleta, an Indian village of two thousand population, lies thirteen miles west of Albuquerque and not a white person lives there except the Indian agent and the railroad men. The homes of the old cliff dwellers are to be seen there also. From Springfield, Arizona, to Magdalena, N. M., a distance of 135 miles, the railroad is not to be seen.

The Rocky Mountains are crossed at Raton Pass, the highest elevation being 8790 feet. This is a beautiful drive and the mountains are a veritable flower garden, hundreds of different varieties being in bloom. It is only an hour and a half's drive from the city of Raton across the Rockies to Trinidad, Colo.

The travelers passed through the cities of La Junta and Lamar, Colo., to Syracuse, Kansas, thence to Great Bend and Kansas City, Mo. Kansas is a great agricultural state, the second state in the Union to go dry, and there the Palmers found the best roads of any of the ten states traversed, California not excepted. Kansas City, Mo., was the prettiest city by far, with its beautiful homes, parks and luxuriant flowers.

The party was seventeen days on the road from Glendale to St. Louis, including a side trip to the Grand Canyon and a day's lay-over in Albuquerque, N. M. After a very pleasant visit with relatives and friends, they left St. Louis July 16, coming home via Kansas City, Mo., Topeka, Kansas, and Colorado Springs, where they visited Manitou, the Garden of the Gods and Pike's Peak, thence to Denver and Cheyenne, Wyoming, Salt Lake City, Reno, Nevada, and Truckee, Cal., where they entered the famous Truckee Pass of the Sierra Nevada mountains, fittingly called "The Alps of America," the summit being 11,500 feet above sea level. Here they found the beautiful Donner Lake and Lake Tahoe. It was seventy-five miles across this range and the Palmers claim it was there they saw the most beautiful scenery of their entire trip. They next came to Sacramento, then south to Stockton and San Jose, where they reached the coast route, which leads through Santa Cruz, Santa Barbara and home to Glendale.

Of the six capital cities visited, Sacramento had decidedly the handsomest building and grounds. They covered a distance of 7500 miles on the trip but never saw any place they liked as well as Glendale. The return trip was made in twenty-five days.

"THE GREEN SARPINT"

Glendale kids (both Billies and Nannies) keep an eye on the Chamber of Commerce "for wonders and monsters and such," as one was overheard to say. Yesterday several gathered there, suddenly appearing as from nowhere, as the manner of kids is.

"Oh, look at the green dragon!" exclaimed one.

"Dragon, nothing!" giped another, "where's his claws?"

"Well, 'green sarpint,' then—that's what it's tagged."

It is in fact a green serpent cucumber, grown in the garden of Mr. F. W. Kenney, 1477 Milford street, Glendale. Its length is 52½ inches (4 feet, 4½ inches), including "tail tip." Circumference, 10 inches. Weight, 5 pounds, 4 ounces, as per Coffee-Booth's scales.

"Glendale takes the cake"—and the snake!

REPORT IS UNCONFIRMED

ARMY AND NAVY DEPARTMENTS STATE THEY HAVE NO REPORT OF DISASTER TO U. S. TROOPS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, August 16.—Neither the war nor the navy department had received confirmation of the reported disaster to American troops in France. Following the rumor that large numbers of wounded Americans had been transferred to English hospitals, both departments said there was no indication of any form of trouble for the American troops in France. Both departments promise to make any such news public as soon as it is received. It is believed the rumor originated from the transfer of sick and convalescent "Sammies" from France to England.

ROOT AND RUSSELL DENOUNCE TRAITORS

RETURNED RUSSIAN COMMISSIONERS USE PLAIN TERMS IN SPEAKING OF CERTAIN CONGRESSMEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
NEW YORK, August 16.—Elihu Root and Charles Edward Russell, members of the American mission just returned from Russia, denounced pro-German agitators and unnamed members of Congress as traitors this afternoon. "There are men walking the streets here who ought to be hanged for treason. There are some newspapers published here every day whose editors deserve a similar fate," said Root.

Russell said: "Disloyal Americans that disgrace the Congress of the United States (referring to Congressmen who are attempting to get a statement of war aims in the Senate) are traitors in disguise, who are doing the dirty work of the Kaiser."

BRITISH OFFENSIVE IN BELGIUM

HAIG MAKES VIOLENT ATTACK ON GERMAN LINES IN BELGIUM NORTH OF YPRES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, August 16.—Field Marshal Haig struck again today, this time in Belgium, north of Ypres. This morning the British and French made a simultaneous attack on a wide front. Heavy fighting netted progress despite stubborn resistance.

FRENCH GAIN IN FLANDERS

CAPTURE ENTIRE TRENCH SYSTEM IN ONE SECTOR STRIKING IN CONCERT WITH BRITISH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, August 16.—Attacking in concert with the British, the French attained all objectives in a strong assault on the German lines in Flanders. In one section an entire trench system was captured. Four German counter attacks were hurled back, the French holding all gains.

FOOD SITUATION IS GOOD

PREMIER LLOYD-GEORGE DISPELS HOPES OF GERMANY IN STARVING OUT GREAT BRITAIN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, August 16.—Pointed answers to Germany's hopes of starving out England were given out to-day by Lloyd-George. The Premier announced that the food situation in England is better now than it has been for a long time.

BRITISH MAKE GAINS

CAPTURE LANGEMARCK TO-DAY WITH TWELVE HUNDRED PRISONERS AND FIVE GUNS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, August 16.—The British captured Langemarck at noon to-day, it was announced. Twelve hundred prisoners and five guns were captured.

SUFFRAGETTES RESPOND TO SAMMIES' APPEAL FOR NEWSPAPERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, August 16.—News-hungry Sammies in France can count on the suffragette for current magazines and newspapers. This was assured by President Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the National Woman's Suffrage Association, in an enthusiastic statement to the United Press to-day. She said General Pershing's plea for newspapers and magazines for his American boys would be answered. "There is no question of the answer of the women of the country," said Mrs. Catt. "An opportunity like that speaks straight to the mother heart of every woman. It makes easy one of the kinds of service that women love to give. But more than that, to we suffragists it is an opportunity to give comfort to men who are fighting our fight—the fight for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own government."

BRAND BLVD. BRIDGE

CITY OF L. A. CALLS FOR BIDS FOR MATERIALS FOR IVANHOE STRUCTURE

That the Brand boulevard bridge across the Los Angeles river at Ivanhoe, so long talked and dreamed of, is to be a reality is a great satisfaction to those who have worked and hoped for it. Many times it seemed that the bridge was assured, when some twist in Los Angeles city or county political circles would bring to naught all that had been accomplished. Now that the city and county have both made appropriations for the bridge and the city of Los Angeles has actually advertised for bids for material for the bridge, it is certain that the much-desired structure will soon be a reality.

The city engineer has estimated the cost of the bridge at $18,600. The piles are to be of creosoted Oregon fir pine, the floor is to be of timber with an asphalt wearing surface. There will be a sidewalk for pedestrians on one side and a twenty-foot roadway. Bids for material must be in by the 27th of this month. The work will be done under the direction of the city engineer of Los Angeles.

ENTERTAIN AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. J. G. Hunchberger, 344 South Central avenue, was the guest at an elaborate luncheon Tuesday, given by Mrs. Frank Alexander of Redlands, who has taken a beautiful home at 3123 South Grand avenue, Los Angeles, for two months.

Mrs. Alexander, who is a daughter-in-law of former Mayor Alexander, formerly lived in Los Angeles and it is her custom in order to escape the excessive heat of her home in Redlands to take a place for some weeks on the coast, during which time she entertains her former friends and neighbors of Los Angeles, of whom Mrs. Hunchberger was one during her residence in Los Angeles before coming to Glendale. The affair Tuesday was most charming in all its appointments and Mrs. Hunchberger greatly enjoyed meeting old friends.

BENEFIT READING CIRCLE

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle was held in the Central avenue school on Wednesday, August 15th, with 11 members responding to the roll call. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood. The next meeting, on August 22nd, will close this season's work. After a brief vacation the meetings will then be in the hands of our esteemed leader, Mrs. Chas. Toll. Those attending yesterday were Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Eichelberger, Mrs. Henry Mrs. Dimmick, Mrs. Maranville, Mrs. McConnell, Mrs. Lord, Mrs. Burr, Mrs. Lockwood, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. G. Sullivan as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Burr.

COLLEGE LUNCHEON

Miss Rebecca L. Gregg, 206 South Central avenue, entertained a number of friends at luncheon on Tuesday. The guests were largely college mates of Miss Gregg, and the affair was in the nature of a reunion. Following the luncheon the guests employed themselves in knitting for the Red Cross and listening to a very delightful program of readings and music by some of the guests. Miss Evelyn Moar, a very gifted young lady, graduate of Cumneck, displayed her versatility and rare attainments not only at the piano and in song but gave some very delightful readings. Miss Gregg was assisted in entertaining her guests by her sister, Miss Martha Gregg. Those enjoying Miss Gregg's hospitality were Miss Lois Shepherd and Miss Evelyn Moar of Los Angeles, Miss Marian Lockwood, Pasadena, Miss Martha Moll and Miss Madeline Safford of Hollywood, Miss Evangeline Hunchberger, Miss Marguerite Studebaker and Miss Martha Gregg of Glendale.

ENTERTAIN OLD-TIME FRIENDS

Mr. W. P. MacMullin and daughter, Miss Helen MacMullin, were the hosts at a charming dinner at their home, 1564 Sycamore street, on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. Freshly cut roses adorned the well-appointed table, around which were seated Miss Ruth Roland, noted film star, and her husband, L. E. Kent, of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hyatt of Hollywood, Mrs. Edith Thompson, an aunt of Miss Roland's, and the host, Mr. MacMullin and Miss Helen MacMullin. Miss Roland is an old friend of Mr. and Mrs. MacMullin, and the evening was spent most pleasantly in recalling old times and old scenes, with some excellent music.

TAX COLLECTION

CONSIDER QUESTION OF HAVING CITY TAXES COLLECTED BY COUNTY

For a number of years the question of having the taxes of the various cities in Los Angeles county collected by the county collector has been one of general discussion. Several cities have adopted the plan and the rumor has gone out that the trustees of the City of Glendale are about ready to recommend that the taxes of the City of Glendale be collected by the county tax collector. That will mean that property owners who have taxes to pay will pay the same to the county collector in Los Angeles instead of to the treasurer at the City Hall in Glendale.

The argument is that every taxpayer has a county tax which he is required to pay to the county treasurer and while he is paying that tax he can also pay the city tax without any additional expense or time.

NORMAN OTIS GOES TO CHINA

Norman E. Otis has returned to the naval training station at Mare Island after a leave of absence of several days which he spent with his mother, Mrs. E. T. Otis of the Dolly Varden confectionery. Norman is enthusiastic about his work and anxious to get into active duty. He joined the coast artillery when it was first organized, but grew restive at the delay in being called out when the United States entered the war and was transferred to the navy. How well he has performed his duties may be judged by the fact that he has been made chief of Section B and has fifty men under his direction. He will leave September 5 for Asiatic waters on a torpedo boat destroyer. Norman's martial bearing was very evident when he carried the big flag in the Elks' parade last Saturday. War's grim horrors are brought closer to us when it takes from our midst such splendid fellows as Norman Otis.

LIEUT. NICHOLS AT HOME

Frederic H. Nichols, Second Lieutenant of Infantry, Officers Reserve Corps, came home Thursday morning, greatly to the surprise and pleasure of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Nichols, 223 South Adams. It is literally a flying visit, as Mr. Nichols has to report at American Lake, Washington, August 27, and wishes to stop on his way at San Francisco and Corvallis, Oregon. His many friends are congratulating him on his success.

LA CHACOTA CLUB

La Chacota Thimble Club are the guests of Mrs. B. H. Nichols, 223 South Adams street, Thursday at an all-day meeting which the club will spend in doing Red Cross work. This little neighborhood club is unremitting in its labors along this line and has accomplished a great deal for this much-needed work.

FRENCH CLASS PRAISED

Dr. Hector Alliot, Director of the Southwest Museum, and one of the very few French linguists in Los Angeles, writes as follows to Mrs. Nanno Woods:

"Dear Mrs. Woods: I am delighted that you take an active interest in teaching French, and I send best wishes for your success. Yours very sincerely, Hector Alliot."

ANNUAL OUTING

The annual picnic of the Glendale W. C. T. U. will be held August 24th. The West Glendale Union will join with the City Union and will go for an all-day outing to the Southern California Home, No. 213 East Avenue 57, Highland Park. They will go by truck, with well-filled baskets and take a gift of jelly or fruit to the ladies of the Home. The cost will be 25 cents each for transportation. Any further information can be had by calling Mrs. Moore, Glendale 306, Sunset phone.

NEWS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

Parents who receive letters from their sons who are in the service of the United States are asked to hand to the Evening News for publication such parts of the letters as may be of interest to other parents who have sons in the service.

T. C. Heacock of Anthony, Harper county, Kansas, has been visiting his brother, L. A. Heacock, and wife at 518 Lomita. Mr. Heacock has also been sojourning at Long Beach. He is delighted with Southern California climate and scenery.

THE WORLD FOR DEMOCRACY

A war that will make the world safe for democracy is not to be won by merely overthrowing enemy autocracies.

A change in the German and Austrian governments by which "empire" would be spelled "republic" and "kaiser" and "emperor" pronounced "president" would not democratize the world. Mere changes of forms and titles means little. Anyway, there are more kings and emperors among the Entente than among the Teuton allies. Democracy in name and claim is one thing, but democracy in fact is quite another.

There are two great essentials to the true democratization of the world.

One is the assured freedom of speech and press among all the peoples.

The other is restraint from declaration of aggressive war by any nation except by a majority vote of its people.

Change the kaiser's title to that of president, but if he retains the power to declare war and to suppress the public voice and will, he remains an autocrat still, a tyrant to his people and a menace to the peace of the world.

The British Prime Minister in his telegram to the Russian democracy said: "There can be no lasting peace until the responsibility of governments to their peoples is clearly established from one end of Europe to the other."

That is a good statement. "Responsibility of governments to their peoples," if it can be realized in fact and not merely in phrases high-sounding but empty, will mean world-liberation, with unbroken peace and unhindered progress. It is a welcome reversal of the phrase, "responsibility of the people to the government," of which the world has had a sickening surfeit for three dreadful years. The one means war, with all its injustices and censored horrors. The other means peace, with all its liberties and boundless blessings.

In the midst of all the current talk of war for democracy it is rather startling to think that not a single one of the nations in the war is in it by the expressed consent of its people. In most there is the clearly expressed dissent of the people. The anti-conscription riots of our nearest neighbor, Canada, are but one form of expression of popular feeling which in some form or other is finding expression from every people involved. The peace talk of the people of Germany and Austria is the same peace talk that comes from the people of every other nation.

The peoples of the world want peace. They never wanted war. If the peoples to-day could speak and enforce their will the trenches would be deserted. If, even in the nations calling themselves democratic, democracy had expression and effect on this question, there would be peace.

Nothing else democracy stands to gain in this war is so important as the abolition of all power to declare war except by vote of the people. When that power ends, autocracy and war will end together. When wars can be declared only by the people themselves, neither war nor autocracy can be.—Exchange.

U. S. GOVERNMENT WILL NEED CARS

Uncle Sam's tremendous war business has already begun to move and is the principal reason behind the concerted campaign undertaken by the railroads to induce the shippers not to waste an inch of car space. Estimates by the New York Journal of Commerce indicate that 64,000 freight cars will be needed to haul construction materials to the 16 cantonments which will house the new American army. This does not include cars that will be needed to move troops nor the 3,500 to 5,000 workmen who will be attached to each military city. Then, too, it must be remembered that many of these cantonments will be located where no terminal railroad facilities exist, and these will have to be constructed before work on the cantonments themselves can start.

Figures given out by the War Department indicate the tremendous burden that will be placed upon the railroads.

Concrete work in each cantonment is estimated to require 4700 barrels of cement, 1400 cubic yards of sand, 2500 cubic yards of broken stone or screened gravel, over 2500 kegs of nails, 5,600,000 board feet of boards, 7,800,000 board feet of dimension stuff, 177,000 feet of 4x4 inch timber, 2,800,000 feet of flooring, 1,200,000 feet of siding and 1,400,000 feet of matched boards. These figures vary in the Northern and Southern states to allow for climatic adaptations. The Northern states will require more lumber than given above.

Estimates of the total requirements of electrical equipment for the sixteen military cities amounts to 20,800,000 feet of insulated wire, 260,000 feet of lamp cord, 125,000 key sockets, and about the same number of shades; 150,000 cleat receptacles, 22,000 snap switches, 27,800 combined switches and plug cut-outs; 75,000 plug fuses; 3,000,000 pairs of unglazed porcelain tubes; about 7,000,000 1 1/4 to 2 1/4 in. wood screws; 9,600 pounds of friction tape, 4,000 pounds of solder; and other items on a similar scale.

In order to extinguish fires in these cantonments about 8300 fire extinguishers, 5000 water casks, 120,000 water pails, and 380,000 feet of hose will be on hand.

The plumbing calls for about 1,600,000 feet of pipe, 40,000 closets and tanks; 30,000 shower bath heads, and tremendous quantities of pipe fittings, sinks, boilers, etc.

Bear in mind that while the railroads are hauling all this load for the Government over tracks and into terminals that they have been compelled in many cases to build especially for the purpose, all the factories of the country must be kept supplied with fuel and raw materials, the huge crops must be moved to market, and the greatest industrial traffic the country has ever known kept moving smoothly day and night.

Patriotism of the American people will have to be indicated by making maximum use of freight cars in the future. Perhaps the greatest economic waste of to-day is in failure to utilize freight car capacity. Averages show that but 43 per cent. of car space is used. Increased loading is an obvious necessity if the Government is to be supported properly.

Y. M. C. A. FOLLOWS ENLISTED MEN

Wherever the enlisted men of the United States army are sent, the Y. M. C. A. will follow. It will be with them in the training camps, on the ocean, in concentration camps, and at the front. It will be the nearest approach to home that the million lads called into service in this country will know once they are away from the family circle. In order to handle this great work the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. was brought into being. Immediately it effected an organization to undertake in a comprehensive and united way to promote the physical, mental, social and spiritual welfare of the enlisted men of the military and naval forces of the United States.

This organization is to-day serving the enlisted men through a corps of trained secretaries stationed at military camps, with splendid equipment for the use of the soldiers, clean, welcome quarters where they may write letters home or find entertaining reading. As General Pershing in speaking of the association says: "It gives the soldier an opportunity of improving himself physically, mentally and morally. Physical fitness demands correct living. The association encourages that kind of life. It affords clean amusement and associates whose instincts are worthy; men banded together with aims, mutually assisting each other. It stimulates a man's intellectual life. Strong muscles, clear brains, high ideals in the soldier, increase fighting efficiency of the army, and these qualities of the citizen insure the permanency of our institution."

Recognizing the need of raising an army that could be sent to the front one hundred per cent. efficient, the government has banished the dissolute women five miles from any military camp, it has made it a crime to give a soldier liquor and it is striving with the assistance of the Y. M. C. A. to throw a protecting arm about the million men summoned to the colors.

And it is to look after the wellbeing of these men that the National War Council of the Y. M. C. A. is securing the biggest men it can find to go into the training camps to appeal to the soldiers, to point out to them the necessity for following a clean life, to make conditions in the training camp or wherever the enlisted man may be, so welcome, so inviting, so appealing that he will find his pleasures there and not seek influences that would tend to rob him of his manhood and his honor.

Wherever enlisted men are sent there will follow the Red Triangle of the Y. M. C. A. to which they may turn for recreation. On the Pacific Coast the work is under the supervision of F. A. McCarl, executive secretary of the Western department.

THE POCKET GOPHER

The damage done by the pocket gopher in the United States has been estimated at over twelve million dollars per year. California is one of the chief losers. The depredations by the gopher are locally numerous, involve nearly the entire state, and go on all the year. The losses, taken one by one, may be trivial, but in the aggregate are considerable. These features all taken into account lead to the belief that more damage is done by the gopher in this state than by any other one animal, not excepting the ground squirrel or the coyote.

The pocket gopher is a small, chunky, short-legged, burrowing rodent, with large protruding front teeth, fur-lined cheek pouches, which are used to carry food, not dirt, and which open outside the mouth, small ears and eyes, and short tail, often naked at the tip. The gopher averages smaller than either the common house rat or the wood or "trade" rat, but there are often great differences in size, especially between the sexes. Because most of the gopher's work is done in the dark, either underground or at night, the disastrous results are better known to most people than is the animal itself.

Obviously, the time to combat gophers most successfully is before the young make their appearance in the spring. Poisoning is very effective, but harder to carry on than trapping in the dry season, especially during August, September, and October, when the supply of green food is scarcest. Trapping is most easily carried on soon after the green vegetation starts in the early winter or spring, for the gophers are then most active. The wise old males which usually cause the trapper the most trouble, seem to lose their instinctive caution during the mating season and often blunder blindly into traps which they would never enter at other times. Every female caught at this time, before the young are born, means the destruction of from four to twelve gophers for the current season. The five most effective methods of destroying gophers are: (1) poisoning with strychnine; (2) trapping; (3) fumigation with carbon bisulphide; (4) flooding; (5) for permanent relief, encouragement and protection of the gopher's natural enemies, especially the barn owl and gopher snake.—Joseph Dixon, U. of C.

Our pro-German friends are hard put to it these days to find excuse for things as they are. Their stock argument has been that "because Germany has seen fit to declare a restricted water zone on the high seas, keep off the water and not run into danger." Still the world does not look at it that way. Trouble is that it is easy to shift the area's boundaries and one having such a generous disposition as has Kaiser Bill is apt to give himself more than he is entitled to. Just lately, for instance, the Arctic ocean has been fenced off by Germany, ostensibly that portion north of the Scandinavian Peninsula, and doubtless the mental reservation goes with the order to embrace all the rest of it—180 degrees each way, East and West. What will the poor seals and polar bears do now? By all means keep off the ocean while Germany has need of it for piratical purposes, otherwise you will get hurt.—Burbank Review.

LIGHTNING STARTS FIRES

Electric storms were responsible for at least 350 fires on the National Forests in California during the month of July, according to a report given out to-day by the Forest Service. These storms were unusually severe and numerous in northern California. The amount of damage done by these fires, however, was small. Lightning storms are almost always accompanied by rain and occur in the high altitudes where the brush is scanty and the few trees are small and of little value. The fact too that a lightning fire is usually set in the top of a tree, and therefore does not spread rapidly, lessens its danger. One careless camper is more to be feared than a dozen lightning fires, according to the Forest officers. During the dry season, a camp fire left burning in the timber and brush belt, or a match carelessly thrown into the needles is much more certain to result seriously.

THE LORD ON SALESMAN

Lord Eustace Percy told at a reception a story about Lord Devonport, the British food controller.

"Lord Devonport," he said, "runs the largest chain of groceries in England. When he was a poor man, running only one provincial grocery, he hated ostentation and display.

A traveling salesman once dropped in on him in his little shop.

"I'm from London," the salesman said, haughtily, "I want to show you a line of London goods that will open your—"

"Where did you say you come from?" asked the humble grocer.

"London," said the salesman, proudly. "London, my man."

"London, eh?" The grocer smiled pleasantly. "Who runs the hotel in that town?"

SOMETHING TO THIS

The Honorable Elihu Root, who has just returned from his special mission to Russia for the Government, says that if one heard only of the riots and internal troubles of this country as he hears only of Russia's disorders, one could as easily conclude that the United States were existing without government and without law and order, as he concludes it of Russia.

And when one stops to consider this statement of the distinguished gentleman he cannot but appreciate the truth of it and realize that compared to the United States, Russia is no more than on a par for riots and dissatisfaction.

And we opine that if the comparison were carried further perhaps Russia might still match with this country.

For instance, supposing we observe the conduct of the Senators of the United States and notice the dilatory tactics they have used in delaying the important war measures.

Can you point to anything in Russia that is worse in the way of government?

Our opinion is that Russia hasn't anything quite as bad.

Russia has its radicals.

But the United States has its Senators.—Hollywood Citizen.

DON'T GIVE UP

Was your back-yard vegetable garden a failure this year? None the less, this year's work is likely to have improved the soil so much that next year's vegetables will be a success. Such is the word of encouragement for the amateur gardener which has come to the committee on resources and food supply of California State Council of Defense from the University of California College of Agriculture.

The reason for many of this year's failures, according to W. F. Gerick, assistant professor of soil chemistry in the University of California, was that the soil planted to vegetables had often not been plowed or cultivated for years. In consequence, the soil was in poor physical condition and quickly grew hard and dry, but this year's spading and working over and this year's fertilization will result in better tilth next year.

To-day is not too early to plan for next year's crop. Now is the time to improve the soil. Aeration and fallowing and this year's tillage will help to bring abundant results for next year's labor.

EVERY TWENTY-NINTH PERSON OWNER OF AUTOMOBILE

With one automobile for every 11 persons in the State, Iowa led the country in 1916 in the number of motor cars per capita, according to official figures in the government office of Public Roads.

California was second with one car for every 12 inhabitants.

Nebraska and South Dakota had one for every 13. Arkansas stood last in the list of States with only one car for every 116 persons.

The national average was one for every twenty-nine. By sections, the South had relatively the fewest cars in proportion to population.

CANADIANS FIGHT CONSCRIPTION

The struggle in Canada against conscription is becoming bitter. In Montreal 15,000 people who had assembled to hear the mayor express his views against conscription turned and mobbed Colonel Rexford, who interrupted the meeting. Sir Wilfred Laurier has said that he would not undertake to keep his followers within bounds if the government forced conscription into effect without an appeal to the country at the polls.

"Distance lends enchantment." It gives excuse for a "joy-ride."

getting four cents a pound for their product according to C. L. Donohoe of the Pacific Rice Growers Association. All growers have been advised not to contract for the delivery of their crop at a price lower than that figure.

WHEATLAND, Cal., August 16.—Hop picking in the Wheatland fields began this week. While the advance arrival of labor was not as heavy as usual, growers reported they anticipated no serious difficulty in securing pickers. At the Horst ranch hop-picking machines are being used.

SACRAMENTO, August 16.—The state board of education will not be at a loss for candidates for appointment as state superintendent of physical education when it meets September 3 for the purpose of filling this newly created, $3600 state position. Eight applications already have been filed with C. S. Pixley, clerk of the board, and many more are expected before the appointment is made. Aside from candidates who have filed written applications, the board is considering a number of other persons who are not avowed candidates. Those who have filed applications for the position are: Perry S. Benson, principal of the Clovis, Fresno county high school; Dr. Henry S. Curtis of Olivet, Michigan; J. O. Gossett, supervisor of physical education of the Stockton city schools; Royce R. Long, Baltimore, Maryland; Mrs. Adeline D. Mack of San Diego; J. B. Nash, assistant supervisor of recreation department of Oakland; G. H. Pfund, director of physical education of the Oakland city schools; H. J. Wilcox, physical director of the Red Bluff high school.

California's prison and state hospital population is growing. According to the report of the state board of charities and corrections the population has increased 547 over last year. The total number of inmates of the hospitals and prisons are: Industrial home for adult blind, 134; reform schools, 743; insane hospitals, insane 9863, inebriate, 285; Sonoma home for feeble, 1210; state prisons, 3535.

Stocking thousands of lakes between the 4,000 and 12,000 levels in the Sierras with trout from the newly constructed Mt. Whitney hatchery is the task facing the state fish and game commission. To reach many of these lakes the deputies will have to go miles into the wilds. The fish will be carried in large cans on pack mules. But before the work of actual planting begins, relay stations must be built every 15 or 20 miles in order to rest the fish on the long journey. If the fry are not given a rest they soon die. After the fish are planted the commission will be forced to import insect life to furnish them with feed, the high altitude making it necessary to bring insects in as well as fish.

FRUIT JUICES

By Frederic T. Bioletti and William V. Cruess, U. of C.

Refreshing beverages can be made from most juicy acid fruits by the following simple method:

1. Crush the fruit into an enameled or aluminum pot.
2. Heat on the stove slowly with frequent stirring until the fruit is thoroughly softened, which will be when it reaches a temperature of 130 to 140 degrees F. Use a thermometer and do not exceed a temperature of 140 degrees F.
3. Remove from the fire and let it stand from eight to twelve hours. Then press out the juice and strain, through a cloth bag, several times, to remove the pulp.
4. Scald bottles and fill with the strained juice to within one and a half inches of the mouth. Close with corks which have been boiled in water for ten minutes and tie down the corks with string.
5. Lay the bottles on their sides in a pot or boiler of water. Heat to 180 degrees F. and keep at this temperature for fifteen minutes. A screen or rack at the bottom will prevent breaking.
6. Remove the bottles, dry the corks with a towel, and when nearly cold dip the ends of the necks into melted paraffin.

Heating to over 180 degrees F. or for too long a time injures the flavor.

Highly flavored grapes are the best for juice. Muscat is improved by the addition of equal quantities of Zinfandel or other acid variety.

The juice of loganberries and blackberries is improved by sugar which may be added when the juice is used.

With citrus fruits, it is best to press out the juice before heating and to avoid the oil from the skin. Pomelo (grape fruit) and lemon juices are good, but orange juice soon loses its flavor.

Pomegranates are excellent for this purpose.

Dilution with sweetened or carbonated water when using improves some juices.

The juice may also be poured hot (180 degrees F.) into cans or jars and sealed immediately. These are then stood upside down until they cool.

Bottles of fruit juices should be kept in a cool place. If kept lying on their sides, they are less likely to become mouldy near the corks. Before using bottles should be stood upright for a few days to allow any sediment to settle.

What doth it profit a man to know all about diction when his wife knows all about contradiction?
Don't expect any sympathy when you jump out of the frying pan into the fire. People will merely ask what the Hek you were doing in the frying pan.
A man should get behind stubborn propositions. But it is different with mules.
The man who knows it all puts mighty little of it into practice.
When a lot of gossips indulge in the anvil chorus it proves that birds of a feather knock together.
Some men won't let the mere fact that they agree with you keep them from arguing with you.
A man has enough faults as it is without making himself disagreeable.
If you can't get along on your income you aren't working hard enough.

LA CANADA.

Still hard at work on bandages, the La Canada Red Cross met this week for the regular Tuesday afternoon session. The women are faithful in their work and are growing into a flourishing organization.

The Improvement Association will meet to-night, Saturday, August 18. Mr. Brooks is anxious that some new business be started.

Henrietta Horne, teacher of the La Canada grammar school, is spending several weeks' vacation with relatives in Utah. She writes of a wonderful time and is fascinated with the North.

A seven-pound boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Metcalf last Monday morning. Mrs. Metcalf is now at the Pasadena hospital. She and the youngster are doing well.

Mr. Robert Murray, son of Mrs. J. Murray of Roy avenue, has been in officers training in Plattsburg, N. Y., and is now ordered to France. Before sailing, he will be given a furlough to spend three days with his mother.

In honor of the La Canada boys who are subject to the draft in September, the Misses Lulu and Katherine Green entertained with a dancing party at their home, Friday evening, August 10. Lloyd Pert, Max Green and Robert Cooper, all of whom have been drafted, were guests of honor. The Green's home was decorated in military fashion with flags and suggestions of red, white and blue. The porch and front of the house were cleared for dancing. Between dances the guests flocked to the sun parlor, where the punch bowl was the chief attraction. Misses Dorothy Lester, Helen Cooper, Clara Armstrong, Aldine Norton, Lulu Green, Helen Kennell, Alice McCoy, Katherine Green, Mrs. Max Green, Mrs. Edwin Cooper, Messrs. Robert Cooper, Marion Lea, Lloyd Peet, Douglas Iverson, Howard Stickney, Kent Savage, Tyler Van Degrift, Robert Horne, Harold Williams, Cecil Van Degrift and Max Green were those who enjoyed the evening. Dewey Schrago of Pasadena furnished the music.

Mr. Frank Granger wishes it to be officially announced that School street has had its name changed to La Canada boulevard. A street sign bearing out this announcement has been placed at the corner of Michigan avenue and La Canada boulevard.

It has become known here that Mrs. J. Murray, who recently completed the surgical dressing course at the Pasadena Red Cross chapter, passed the national examination with a remarkably high grade. Upon receiving her official certificate of the completion of the course, Mrs. Murray was highly commended for her accuracy and thoroughness. This certificate from the National Red Cross headquarters entitles Mrs. Murray to teach this course at any time.

Seven more boys from La Canada have been called by Uncle Sam to appear for draft examination Saturday, August 18, at 1010 West Broadway, Glendale. H. Singh, Highland drive, James A. Newton, Palm drive, J. Douglass, Michigan avenue, Kent M. Savage, School street, R. Y. Hood, Bellview, Ralph E. Cornwell, Michigan avenue, and Lloyd Peet, School street. Lloyd Peet, who has recently come to La Canada, registered for the draft in Acton, Calif. Upon moving to La Canada, Peet left his change of address with the exemption board in Acton. Through some mistake, Peet's name on the envelope from the war department was misspelled. This and the necessity of forwarding the notice, delayed the summons. Peet has phoned to Acton in hopes of having his place of examination changed.

FILLING JACKIES' SWEET TOOTH

GREAT LAKES TRAINING STATION, Illinois, August 16.—That the soldiers stationed at the Great Lakes training station are having plenty of candy, etc., to eat, must be true if the following press report is correct: Caramels, 100,000 packages. Milk chocolate, 100,000 packages. Sweet chocolate, 12,000 packages. Salted peanuts, 50,000 packages. Sugar-coated peanuts, 50,000 packages.

That reads like an order for all the girls' seminaries in the world, but it is all intended for the 11,000 jackies in training here. In addition, they eat 240 gallons of ice cream, in cones, daily.

Steel yourself against irony!

FLOWERS HIDE BATTLE'S SCARS ON VIMY RIDGE

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, July 10 (By Mail)—Vimy Ridge is covered with flowers. A few weeks ago I watched this hill explode and blaze like the Day of Judgment while the Canadians with their artillery and mines turned it into a seething, boiling mound of fire.

Today old lady nature has completed her miracle. Vimy Ridge is green. Poppies, cowslips, cornflowers, purple thistle-mops, daisies and belated speedwells dash the gory battlefield with color, while rank grass hides the smaller shell-craters. But one explanation is possible for this change, for all manner of vegetation and seed were burned to ashes and buried many feet deep in the mud during the storming of Vimy's heights in April. Nature has worked some wonder as if ashamed of the ugly hill and wanted to cover it over and hide it out of sight.

Vimy Ridge runs from just west of Lena almost due south towards Arras. Notre Dame de Lorette is a great ridge running generally east and west, the eastern slopes ending west of Lens where Vimy begins.

From the top of Notre Dame Lens can be plainly seen about four miles away. The whole flat plain to the north and northeast, is dominated by this great hill. It also dominates the south and west. Small wonder the two ridges were ordered by the German high command to be held at all costs, for so long as they were held the British and French were powerless from Arras to Ypres.

So the French stormed Notre Dame and won it. The whole ridge was drenched in blood, the ground was shattered, and it seemed that this spot would ever be barred of the slightest growing thing.

Today I found flowers everywhere. At times grass reached almost to my waist. I stumbled into abandoned trenches and comparatively recent shellholes now hidden under vegetation. Now and then one tripped over concealed entanglements of barbed wire, or kicked a skull accidentally with the toe of one's boot, or trod on some forgotten soldier's pack, or rifle or bayonet. Under rank growths of daisies one comes across strips of German uniforms with whitening bones lying about, and German boots with everything from the knee down still in them. Canteens, battered and pierced; iron-ration tins; hand grenades, shrapnel cases, cartridge clips, unexploded shells, all manner of equipment are still there—only they are now hidden under a tangle of wild flowers.

FATHER'S "AT HOME"

Mr. Goodfellow had dined out six nights in succession. On the seventh he turned up at home for the evening meal. When he was seated Mrs. Goodfellow rose in her seat and, addressing the other occupants of the table, said:

"Children, we have with us to-night a guest of whom you have all heard, even if you do not personally know him. He is a man who has a reputation for conviviality and cheer in every club and cafe in the city, and this evening we are to have the honor and pleasure of being numbered among the admirers of his brilliant and entertaining qualities. Therefore, it is with the greatest pleasure that I present to you—your papa!"

And Goodfellow has had a grouch ever since.—Harper's Weekly.

AN UNFORTUNATE SLIP

Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, was trying his first lawsuit, and had sought to show that Jones, a witness for the other side, was an offhand liar. He put a neighbor of Jones' on the stand, and asked him about Jones' reputation for truth and veracity.

"'Twas bad, very bad," said the witness.

Then the other lawyer tried to show that this testimony was due to spleen.

"You and Jones have had some trouble, haven't you?" he asked the witness.

"No; nothing special."

"Ah, nothing special. Then you did have some little trouble."

"Nothing, only he stole a cow bell from me."

"But didn't he deny stealing the bell?"

"Yes," admitted the witness, "he denied it, but—but—"

"But what?" interrupted the lawyer sharply.

"He brought back the bell."—Harper's Weekly.

POULTRY NOTES

A good incubator insures early hatches.

Chilled chicks are apt to have diarrhea.

The pullet hatched early in the year is the one which will lay next winter.

The small coal stove brooder which will accommodate 300 chicks is a good investment.

Little chicks should be kept dry. Don't turn the hen loose too early in the morning.

If incubators are used, remember that it is just as important to have a good brooder.

Long, pointed, short, round, thin, or thick shelled eggs should not be used for hatching purposes.

Most people either raise twice as many chickens as they should or provide half enough brooding equipment. Plan your equipment for the worst weather that can be expected.

Yards sowed to oats furnish hens and chicks material that can be supplied in no other way than by grain food in some form. Later, rape or buckwheat can be used to advantage.

Imitate nature in hen hatching. Either make the nest in a bottomless box on the ground or put an overturned sod in the bottom of the nest. This assists the hen in controlling evaporation from the egg.

THAT NOTHING BE WASTED

When thinning carrot beds, be careful not to throw away vegetables as large as a dime, for this size is best for canning, says to-day's bulletin from the National Emergency food garden commission, which is co-operating with this newspaper in its campaign for food conservation. Wash carrots thoroughly with stiff vegetable brush, blanch for four to six minutes, then plunge into cold water for an instant and remove outer skin with the stiff brush. The carrots may be cut into strips or cross-sections, or used whole. After packing the jars, add a level teaspoonful of salt per quart of vegetables and fill jars with hot water. Adjust tops and partially tighten them, and sterilize for an hour and a half. (If using tin cans seal completely before sterilization.) Remove jars from boiling water, tighten tops and invert out of a draught to cool. For storing, wrap jars in dark paper to prevent bleaching.

AN OLD STANDBY

Said the Yankee: "We've got a great plan

To provide for the feeding of man;

What we can eat we eat

Whether turnips or meat

And whatever we can't eat we can."

Then the Briton wrote home: "It's quite neat

Those Yankees have got us all beat;

I have learned just to-day

They throw nothing away,

For they tin everything they don't eat."

DON'T SAVE ANYTHING

"I have no patience with some people who are always complaining about the high cost of living."

"No?"

"When a staple article of food goes down five cents a pound, all it means to them is another nickel for the movies."

NOT WOMAN'S FRIEND

"Sunlight is a great thing."

"It's no friend to woman."

"Why not?"

"See what it does to her complexion, and besides, they do say its chemical effect disintegrates the backing of mirrors in a comparatively short time."

HIGH COST OF WIVES

"Don't you love me any more, Herbert?" asked his wife, in tears, after he had made a few caustic remarks about the dressmaker's bill.

"Yes, indeed," answered the bank that was usually broke. "You are very dear to me."

THE NEW WAY

"Aren't you ashamed to let your wife run you out of the house trying to beat you?"

"On the contrary, I have her at my mercy by executing a strategic retreat which has foiled all her plan of action."

STRANGE HAPPENING

"I saw a man with a crowd around him, go up to another man and deliberately knife him without a single one's interfering."

"Was he a Black Hand?"

"No; he was a surgeon."

THE REASON

"Whenever there is any trouble going on, people want to make me the goat."

"Then why don't you stop butting in?"

From the flood districts comes this plea: "Send us immediately three thousand copies of your Home Drying Manual. Every home in town has been under water and needs drying the worst way."

SECOND CHOICE

"I understand your son intends to devote his life to art."

"Well, he did intend to, but when I made it very plain to him that I had no intention of devoting any of my money to the cause, he gave it up and decided to go into the insurance business."

It is not surprising, in these times when the chief topic of discussion in so many homes in all parts of the world is the high cost of "everything which the home maker and bread winner have to provide," that the children should become impressed with its importance. That they do become impressed would appear to be testified to by a little girl in a Sunday School class in the West who, in answer to the question, "What is the most wonderful thing a man ever made?" answered, "A living for a family." She perhaps could furnish corroborative proof right in her own home.

There is a demand, here and there, for a change
